Offroad Expo Giveaway — 10% Off (Non-Winner) Email

Type: One-off campaign Audience: "Off-Road Expo Giveaway Entrants" list, excluding the tagged winner · Send: Monday, Oct 5, 2026, same day as the winner email · Risk: low
Source: Chief of Marketing brief's Email Marketing section — `08 Events, Motorsport and Partnerships/01 SEMA and Trade Shows/Off-Road Expo 2026/jackman-campaign-brief-offroad-expo-giveaway-2026-09-30-v1.md` Status: Draft — not built in Klaviyo

Current Klaviyo state checked 2026-09-30: no "Off-Road Expo Giveaway Entrants" list exists yet (confirmed via `get_lists`) — created fresh by the landing page's embedded form. No prior consumer-facing discount send exists to check against.

Subject: Didn't win? Here's 10% anyway

Preheader: Thanks for stopping by the booth — this one's on us.

Hey [First Name],

The wheels went to one winner this time — but you were still at our booth at Off-Road Expo, and that's worth something.

Here's 10% off anything at jackmanwheels.com, no strings attached:

CODE: OREEXPO10

Build notes for Klaviyo

Placeholders to fill: `[First Name]`. Code `OREEXPO10` — confirm it's live in Shopify with a usage limit and expiration date set before this sends (per the campaign brief's open task; don't send this email with a code that isn't built yet). `[Shop Now]` link — recommend pointing at the general site/all collections rather than the Street line specifically, since this is a blanket thank-you discount, not tied to the prize category; flag if Austin wants it scoped differently.

List hygiene — same flag as the landing page draft: this list only ever receives these two emails as built. Since the campaign's actual goal is growing the list Austin sends to regularly (not just running a contest), confirm whether these entrants should also land on or roll into the standing "Email List" so they keep hearing from Jackman after this send — otherwise the giveaway grows a list that goes quiet right after Oct 5, 2026.

Subject/preheader length and mobile-truncation check: Subject "Didn't win? Here's 10% anyway" — 30 characters. Preheader "Thanks for stopping by the booth — this one's on us." — 53 characters. Both safe under mobile truncation thresholds.

Segment: "Off-Road Expo Giveaway Entrants," excluding the one profile tagged as the winner (see the companion winner email for that tag). Suppress the winner explicitly rather than relying on list math alone — double-check the exclusion before scheduling.

Dark-mode / alt text / header mark: Body copy bone_white on dark backgrounds. Reversed logo on a solid ground, never transparency. Single CTA button ("Shop Now"), 44px minimum tap height.

Why it's built this way

Leads with acknowledging they showed up, not with "you lost" — the 10% reads as a thank-you for the booth visit, not a downgrade from the prize. One CTA (shop with the code) so the discount doesn't get diluted by competing asks; the follow-CTA rides after it as a secondary line, same structure as the winner email so the two sends feel like one coherent campaign rather than two different voices.
