Ambassador Shortlist — One Per Vehicle

7 October 2026 · Austin Fitzgerald · Outreach list

Built to the founders' brief: every ambassador on a different vehicle. Fourteen platforms, a primary pick for each, backups where they exist, and an honest note where the platform is still thin.

All follower counts read live from Instagram on 7 October 2026.

The shortlist

#	Vehicle	Who	Followers	Why them
1	Chevy Silverado HD	@inciarte4x4	165K	Verified account. 829:1 follower-to-following — the highest authority figure found across every scan. Lifted Silverado HD overland build. Attends Overland Expo West, SoCal, East and Mountain West — his highlights are a tour calendar
2	Toyota Tacoma (3rd gen)	@trdpro_pugz	39.8K	Studio-lit Tacomas with the wheel dead centre. The most wheel-forward feed on any list. Already runs build lists and discount codes
3	Ford Bronco Raptor	@chance.the.raptr	37.5K	Halo platform with almost no aftermarket wheel competition. Nitto Pit Crew member, so he knows the drill
4	Ford F-150 Raptor (Gen 1)	@gen1raptors	35.8K	The Gen 1 Raptor authority. Runs his own store — thinks commercially
5	Toyota Tacoma (4th gen)	@ghostpro.la	35.4K	2026 Tacoma. Professional photographer, LA. Only public email on the entire board
6	Toyota Tundra	@thatwhite_trdpro	31.1K	Supercharged 2017 TRD Pro. SoCal. Already followed by @campygilmore and @familycruiser250. Long existing partner list — Toyo, Total Chaos, Openroad — none of them wheels

#	Vehicle	Who	Followers	Why them
7	Ram 1500 TRX	@fast_trx	29.9K	Twin-turbo E85 TRX. Bio literally says "DM for sponsorships." Runs @exotic.innovations, so he is a parts guy as well as a creator
8	Jeep Gladiator	@punknking_jt	29.3K	Utah — Sand Hollow and Moab terrain, which is the How We Got There backdrop
9	GMC Sierra 3500 AT4	@javicorona_at4	28.5K	2025 GMC 3500 AT4 Duramax. Heavy-duty — genuinely different from everything else here. "DM For Collaborations." Already followed by @22protaco
10	Chevy Silverado 1500 ZR2	@zr2chris22	22.4K	Owns @foosgonewheeling — brings an organised group, not just an account
11	Toyota 4Runner	@groovyrunner.gx	20.7K	Orange County. Also runs a Lexus GX550, so he can cover a second platform later
12	Ford F-150 (older gen)	@keepitdirty_offroad	19.9K	SoCal, USAF vet, organises group runs. DIY and review content — his audience arrives already deciding what to buy
13	Ford Super Duty / classic	@14smilespergallon	12.8K	1972 F350, 1993 Bronco, 2019 F250. Nobody else on any list covers classic iron
14	Toyota Land Cruiser LC250	@familycruiser250	9.6K	Already in conversation. Product photographer, and runs the Club Two Fifty community
15	Ford Bronco	@soka._.boka	9.1K	Phoenix, 2023 Badlands. Has a highlight called "Fit 35s on 4G" — his followers are there for fitment specifically

Nine of the fifteen are over 25K. That is the "big player" group your wheels-plus-code-plus-kickback structure was designed for.

Backups, by platform

The two platforms still not properly solved

Chevy Colorado ZR2. Best option found is @downtimelost — 4,067 followers, a 2025 Colorado ZR2, onX Offroad trail guide, YouTube channel, already followed by @familycruiser250. Good creator, below the 5,000 floor. Either waive the floor for him or leave Colorado uncovered; the alternatives are @stealthzr2 at 2,473 and @zr2.papi at 5,474 with a 2:1 ratio, which is weaker than it looks.

GMC Canyon AT4X. The only account at any size is @bad_at4x (6,269), and he is the single genuine wheel conflict found across every scan — currently running Fuel Off-Road R17s through @thewheelshopinc. Either fund the swap or skip Canyon. Note that Sierra 3500 (#9 above) already gives you GMC representation, so Canyon is a nice-to-have rather than a hole.

Three things worth deciding before outreach starts

1. Name a "platform of record" in each contract. Several of these people own more than one truck — @groovyrunner.gx has a 4Runner and a GX550, @14smilespergallon has three Fords, @395rig has a Power Wagon and a Silverado. That is efficient, but it also means two ambassadors could end up posting the same platform. Write the specific vehicle into each agreement so the roster stays genuinely one-per-vehicle.

2. Tacoma needs two slots, not one. It is the dominant platform in this category and you have four strong candidates — two of whom you are already talking to. Splitting by generation is the clean answer: 3rd gen and 4th gen are different fitments and different buyers, so @trdpro_pugz and @ghostpro.la are not duplicates. That also keeps @22protaco and @campygilmore available as the warm backups they already are.

3. The private code decision solves the dealer problem. Worth recording: a code that is handed out person-to-person and never posted publicly does not undercut dealer pricing where dealers can see it. That resolves the channel conflict I flagged in the founder brief, and it should be written into the contract as an obligation — the code is not to be posted publicly — with a stated consequence if it leaks. Codes do leak onto coupon aggregator sites; review redemption volume monthly against each ambassador's audience size.

New accounts found in this scan

Five names that were not on either earlier list, all added to fill the founders' platform brief.

Handle	Followers	Platform	Found via
@inciarte4x4	165K	Chevy Silverado HD	Trailboss Nation chain
@thatwhite_trdpro	31.1K	Toyota Tundra	Search — Tundra TRD Pro
@fast_trx	29.9K	Ram 1500 TRX	RAM TRX feature page chain
@javicorona_at4	28.5K	GMC Sierra 3500 AT4	Trailboss Nation chain
@downtimelost	4.1K	Chevy Colorado ZR2	@bad_at4x chain

Also found, not ambassadors but worth knowing:

- @coloradocanyonenthusiasts — 13.3K, and an actual shop at 3949 E La Palma Ave, Anaheim. Colorado/Canyon specialists, twenty minutes from Santa Fe Springs. Dealer lead, and the fastest route into GM owners. You already follow them
- @trailbossnation (69.8K) and @ram1500_trx (58.8K) — feature pages with partner highlights. Paid placement, not ambassadors, but the cheapest reach into Silverado and TRX audiences
- @elektric_boss — 78.8K, Jared Hare, founder of Addictive Desert Designs. Industry contact rather than ambassador

What I could not check

Engagement rate, same as before. Instagram does not expose likes-per-post at scale, and at this tier you are about to commit real money. Pull a manual engagement check on the final shortlist before signing — particularly @395rig and @thatwhite_trdpro, who both follow a lot of accounts relative to their following, which usually means a softer audience than the headline number suggests.
